Project objective as described in the application and grant agreement:

1. Life-sized Eagle Nest replica: This component was built using a combination of volunteer and staff time. The structure is based on the methods used by the USDA Forest Service at the Rocky Mountain Forest and Range Experiment Station. The nest was placed on an 84' x 8' riser for easy access and crowd control.

2. Wing Span Display: This display includes outlines of various native birds' wing spans that visitors can use to compare their height, stretch, and arm length to the birds wing span.

3. Beaks, Feet and Feathers: A hands-on exploration area where visitors can compare and contrast the shape and size of various native birds' beak structure. Talon, foot structure and feather types are also part of this exhibit feature.

4. Birds' Breakfast: A hands-on area featuring the types of foods birds eat and everyday tools that mimic bird beaks. Visitors are able to experiment with the tools to discover the type of beak best suited to each type of food.

5. Interactive Area: A space near the nest where bird puppets and books at various reading levels encourage families and groups to learn and play together.

6. Exhibit Signs: Each component of the exhibit has instructions, photos/posters, and suggestions for interaction.

7. Self-Guided Hike: A hike sheet has been developed that provides opportunities for self-guided hikes to encourage return visits and new exploration each time.

Summary of the Project accomplishments:

The "All About Birds Exhibit" provides information about the diversity of bird species, particularly raptors, found in Illinois. The interactive exhibit features a life-size replica of an eagle's nest, an area for comparing and contracting beak adaptations, wing span information and bird watching. The Rockford Park District added a TV to the exhibit that will eventually stream live video of an eagle cam from Alcoa in order to enhance the exhibit with technology. This exhibit complements the outdoor "Birds of Prey" exhibit which is home to six non-releasable raptors and encourages visitors to view the many other birds that inhabit Atwood Park. The exhibit is part of each school and community group visit and is open to the public on Saturdays. There were over 20,000 unique visitors to Atwood Park in 2014. Atwood Park contains 334 acres with many different habitats including the Kishwaukee River, woodland, marsh, and prairie. These spaces attract a large variety of birds. Bird watching is a life-long recreation skill which encourages the healthy habits of hiking and walking. For many of our students, birds provide the guaranteed animal sighting that leads to a continued and life-long interest in the outdoors.

Atwood Center, 2685 New Milford School Road
12 p.m. to 2 p.m.

ROCKFORD, IL – A brand new exhibit has landed at Atwood Center, 2685 New Milford School Road, Rockford. The "All About Birds Exhibit" will provide information about the diversity of bird species, particularly raptors, found in Illinois. The interactive exhibit will feature a life-size replica of an eagle's nest, an area for comparing and contrasting beak adaptations, wing span information, bird watching, and a hands-on area featuring the types of foods birds eat and everyday tools that mimic bird beaks. "This interactive exhibit will fascinate guests of all ages and compliments the outdoor, accessible, and free Birds of Prey exhibit which was completely remodeled in 2012. The Birds of Prey exhibit is home to seven non-releasable raptors. Adding this exhibit helps us spread the message about how important it is to preserve and enhance our natural habitats," said Atwood Center Manager Becky Lambert.

To kick-off this new exhibit, the Rockford Park District is inviting the community to the "All About Birds Exhibit" Open House on Saturday, January 31, 2015 at Atwood Center from 12 p.m. to 2 p.m. Visitors are invited to enjoy a complementary lunch, observe the 1:00 p.m. Birds of Prey feeding, and tour the accessible tree house, hiking trails, or rental and dormitory facilities. The "All About Birds" exhibit is free and open to the public on Saturdays.

This exhibit was made possible thanks to a $2,000 grant through the Illinois Department of Natural Resources Wildlife Preservation Fund. The Rockford Park District also added a TV to the exhibit that will eventually stream live video of an eagle in order to enhance the exhibit through technology. The exhibit is also a part of every school and community group visit.
